

PR₁

VC₁

TD

BD

VA

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

Handan Türkođlu, Zeynep Günay, Burçin Yazgı, Başak Demires Özkul, Eda Beyazıt, Ervin Sezgin, İpek Şen, Gökçer Okumuş, Sinem Metin, Aslı Ulubaş, Eymen Bakırcı

2015-2016 fall

modules

module 1: basic concepts

(5 weeks)

space/place

To increase awareness on diverse elements of urban space + To gain skills to "read", analyse, interpret urban space

- Voids
- Boundaries
- Dominance / Recessiveness
- Scale / Proportion / Texture

module 2: interactions & experiences

(5 weeks)

people/place

To provide an understanding of the experience of the individual and its interaction with the space

- Continuity / Time
- Memory
- Rhythm
- Soundscape

Handouts | Reading > Seminar | Discussion > Field-trip > Project > Review > Revision > Blog

istanbul as a laboratory

[+ 4 CM]

module management

PR1

CONCEPT: MEMORY

PROBLEM: Are the elements of Istanbul urban space readable/traceable in different period movies? Is there a consistent collective memory? How do we map the narrated space in real time?

MATERIALS: A book / book chapter / poem / movie, A3 paper / cartoon, drawing material, collage materials (such as newspapers, magazines, papers, postcards, photographs, product labels from present and from the years of the book or movie), glue, scissors, etc.

LOCATION: Haydarpaşa, Tarlabasi, Karaköy, Cagaloglu, Laleli, Tarabya and Adalar.

METHOD: A3 Collage capturing the collective memory in urban space through the narratives from the book / book chapter or movie.

DATE: November 23-26, 2015

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

"the obsessive pursuit of memory may be an indication that our thinking and living temporarily are undergoing a significant shift, as modernity brought about a real compression of time and space yet also expanded horizons of time and space beyond the local." (Huyssen, 2003, p.4)

Following "Continuity", we are continuing our exploration on the interactions with and within the urban space through "Memory". We have been asking ourselves the previous week whether it is possible to claim "continuity" when physical environment is subject to disappearance. We strictly bound ourselves with the physicality, abstract / tangible form of urbanity. Memory will give us a chance to look beyond the physicality.

The questions to guide our exploration are: Are the elements of Istanbul urban space readable/traceable in different period movies? Is there a consistent collective memory? How do we map the narrated space in real time? To respond these questions, we will be rethinking Istanbul's urban space and our interactions and experiences attached to this space in comparison to the narratives of cinema and literature.

no: 6

urbansapiens.wordpress.com

tes111e
SBP PROJECT I
monday-thursday
13:30-17:30

W 11

PR1

We will try to attach sometimes remote sometimes familiar images of the city narrated in the book or movie with our image of the past as well as present, by looking at the spatial and social traces constructed through collective memory. This approach will give you the hints to understand and trace the relationship between the transformations in urban space with respect to the influences of its citizens. It will transform the audiences, you, into narrators by including personal attachments and historical footprints in the urban space in which historical continuity is at risk through a continuous destruction and construction process - in which anything is open to disappear, such as our memories.

"I could tell you how many steps make up the streets rising like stairways, and the degree of the arcader curves [...] but I already know this would be the same as telling you nothing. The city does not consist of this, but of relationships between the measurements of its space and the events of its past: [the height of a lamppost and the distance from the ground of a hanged usurper's swaying feet; the line strung from the lamppost to the railing opposite [...]; the height of that railing and the leap of the adulterer who climbed over it or down; the tilt of a guttering and a car's progress along it as he slips into the same window; the firing range of a gunshot which has suddenly appeared beyond the cope and the bomb that destroys the guttering; the rips in the fish net and the three old men seated on the dock mending nets and telling each other for the hundredth time the story of the gunshot of the usurper [...]. As this weave from memories flows in, the city soaks it up like a sponge and expands. A description of [a city] as it is today should contain all [city's] past. The city, however, does not tell its past, but contains it like the lines of a hand, written in the corners of the streets, the grillings of the windows, the banisters of the steps, the antennae of the lightning rods, the poles of the flags, every segment marked in turn with scratches, indentations, scrolls." (Calvino, 1974, p.10)

We will realize this goal by the investigation of movies and novels on Istanbul, specifically on the neighborhoods of Haydarpaşa, Tarlabası, Karaköy, Cagaloglu, Laleli, Tarabya and Adalar. You are first expected to observe and interpret the transformation of urban spaces that are narrated in these sources from the perspective of the society and everyday life, and then you will materialize the experience of this past in collective memory at the present through the use of collage technique.

Tracing the past at the present in relation to memories will not be an easy task. Memory is founded by living societies in permanent evolution through a dialectic of remembering and forgetting, and takes root in concrete spaces or images. History, on the other hand, turns into a temporal continuity, acting as an incomplete representation of past. In "The Architecture of the City", though, Aldo Rossi (1982) states that the past is being partly experienced in the present. A photograph, a newspaper column, a colour, a tree, a street name, a street, a symbol, a monument, a song may help to unconsciously confront a previously lived and experienced everyday life (such as the collage work of Fırat Turcan Elmazoglu below). We call these "memories". Memorabilia are the instruments of individual and collective memories within the vicious cycle of remembering and forgetting. Therefore, according to Sigmond Freud, nothing that has once existed is ever lost; then city becomes a collage of pieces and their memories; thus, we will legitimize and give meaning to present socially, culturally and politically.

no: 6

urbansapiens.wordpress.com

PR1

1st of May and Memory in Taksim Square by Fırat Turcan Elmazoglu
(http://faturcanelmazoglu.tumblr.com)

But we must also be aware of the fact that memory can be an elusive concept. While cities act as palimpsests of space and even everyday spaces of collective memory, they can also be subjected to socially produced "amnesia" (Huyssen, 2003). The urban space, then, is threatened to be a "lieux de memoire" / site of memory (Nora, 1989) through which multiple histories are simultaneously rewritten as a designed act rather than a "milieu de memoire" / "real environment of memory" as the "real" no longer exists.

References

- Aldo Rossi, The Architecture of the City (L'architettura della città)/1946, trans. Diane Ghirardo and Joan Ockman, Cambridge, MA: MIT Press, 1982.
- Andreas Huyssen, Present Pasts: Urban Palimpsests and the Politics of Memory, Stanford: Stanford University Press, 2003.
- Piero Calvino, Invisible Cities (Le Città invisibili)/1972, trans. William Weaver, London: Harcourt Inc, 1974.
- Pierre Nora, Between Memory and History: Les Lieux de Mémoire, Representations 26, 1989, 7-25.

Cover > Romare Bearden (1911-1988), in the Doves, presents a collective memory belonging everyday urban life on the streets of New York's Harlem: a noisy, vibrant, colourful imagination.

no: 6

urbansapiens.wordpress.com

module management

Handouts|Reading > Seminar|Discussion > Field-trip > Project
> Review > Revision > Blog

module management

Handouts|Reading > Seminar|Discussion > Field-trip > Project >
Review > Revision > Blog

[<http://urbansapiens.wordpress.com>]

orientation
welcome on board!
<bodies in space>

Coordinated by Defne Koldaş (Talimhane Theatre)

Balance-Trust, Body Composition (Filling the voids by bodies + Adapting paintings through bodies)

module 1: basic concepts

voids

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

How can we utilise undefined urban spaces?

To uncover the meanings of space through voids

To discover possibilities of intervention

To rethink about the urban space as well as the codes of behaviour in public space

<“Body”, Monochrome T-shirts, Documentation through photography>

Reading: “Gündelik Hayat ve Kentsel Mekan: Yüksel Yaya Bölgesi’nde Yürümek” by Tonguç Akış (Başkent Üzerine Mekân-Politik Tezler: Ankara'nın Kamusal Yüzleri, Güven Arif Sargın (Ed), İletişim, 77-118, 2002)

* influenced by Willi Dorner's work of "Bodies in Urban Spaces"

module 1: basic concepts

boundaries

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

Can we talk about boundaries within the city?
How can we define them & what kind of functions do they have?

To discover different boundaries and their meanings for society

<Video (1 min.), Story boards (sketches - silhouette, section, facade) >

Reading: "The scale politics of spatiality" by Jonas, A.E.G. (Environment and Planning D, 12 (3), 257-264, 1994)

Dolmabahçe ↑

Ayşe Burcu Kısacık, Berfin Sönmez, Başak Kına

Arda Yeldan, Fatih Emre Çil

Burcu Begüm Topuz, Betül Sağlam, Ahmet Berra Çakmak

module 1: basic concepts

dominance / recessiveness

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

How do dominant/recessive elements coexist in an urban space?

To discover power relations in urban space through the search of interrelationships

To question perception, and the norms effecting perception

<Model-making, Mapping, Panorama sketches>

Reading: "Walking in the City" by Michel De Certeau (The Practice of Everyday Life, University of California Press, 91-110, 1984) + "The Eiffel Tower" by Roland Barthes (The Eiffel Tower, and Other Mythologies, University of California Press, 3-17, 1997)

Dilek Keser

Furkan Öksüz

Batuhan Guguk

Tunahan Haldız

module 1: basic concepts

scale/proportion/texture

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

How do urban elements come together?

In what proportions?

How do these different proportions change perception of urban space for its inhabitants and users?

To understand urban organisation through physical attributes of space

To familiarize with base map, scales used in urp

<2D and 3D sketches/sections on the base map>

Sevgi Umut Köstenoğlu

Şafak Kaya

Ravza Kavaktepe

Büşra Elif Özmen

Ayşegül Demir

İlkay Dilan Taşçekiç

Sevde Nur Kurt

Burcu Begüm Topuzdağ

Kübra Bozkurt

Emre Taha Yıldız

Beliz Çakır

modules

module 1: basic concepts

(5 weeks)

space/place

Voids
Boundaries
Dominance / Recessiveness
Scale / Proportion / Texture

module 2: interactions & experiences

(5 weeks)

people/place

Continuity / Time
Memory
Rhythm
Soundscape

module 2: interactions & experiences

continuity/time

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

Can we talk about a temporal continuity of Istanbul urban space?

To understand the experience of the individual within urban space and his/her interaction with space

To encounter urban palimpsests, spaces that incorporate knowledge from different time periods

<Sketch work, superposition of old and new photographs of Istanbul>

Reading: "On history" by Fernand Braudel (On history, University of Chicago Press, 1982, 27-38)

Zeliha Balık, Kamercan Beşikçi, Burla Kayapınar

Cem Çelik, İrem Özdarendeli, Tutku Şimşek

module 2: interactions & experiences

memory

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

Are the elements of Istanbul urban space traceable in different period movies/books?

Is there a consistent collective memory?

How do we map the narrated space in real time?

To understand the spatial and social traces from the past constructed through collective memory

To explore meanings of present socially, culturally and politically

<A3 Collage>

Reading: "Introduction" by Andreas Huyssen (Present Pasts: Urban Palimpsests and the Politics of Memory, Stanford: Stanford University Press, 2003, 1-10) + "Invisible Cities" by Italo Calvino (1974, 10-11)

<Tarabya, Karaköy, Laleli, Cağaloğlu, Haydarpaşa, Tarlabaşı, Sulukule>

Cem Çelik, Tunahan Haldız, Ata Uzun

Hazal Tahmaz, Zeliha Balık, Bahar Melisa Sayıldan

Melisa Kaleli, Betül Sağlam, Ezgi Soyman

İzem Daşkan, Merve Deniz Tak, Süleyman Ay

Aylin Özdemir, Ayşenur Dağgöl, Melis Soytürk

Furkan Öksüz, Şafak Kaya, Mihaç Nar

Özge İrem Altunay, Dilek Keser, Beliz Çakır

Zeynep Topuz, Gülnihal Hiçsönmez, Kübra Altıntaş

Batuhan Guguk, Yasir Can Akça, Berk Günöz

Ttaha Nacar, Gizem Ölmez, Cemre Hilal Taplı

module 2: interactions & experiences

rhythm analysis

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

What does the rhythm of urban space tell?

How is this rhythm created and how can we capture it?

To explore interaction between place, time and energy in order to understand how daily life works

<Observation, 3D rhythm analysis, space-rhythm charts, sketches, mapping>

Reading: "Seen from the Window" by Henri Lefebvre (Rhythmanalysis: Space, Time and Everyday Life, London: Bloomsbury, 2004, 27-38)

<Perşembe Pazarı, Kabataş>

ITU/FACULTY OF ARCHITECTURE
DEPARTMENT OF URBAN AND REGIONAL PLANNING
PROJECT 1 - FALL 2015

ŞEHİR PLANI
ŞEHİR PLANI
KABATAŞ

DZİRCİYE
Hemen + Car
Tram
Bus

GİZEM KÖRPINAR DİLA BABAOĞLU ESRA TEZCAN

BILLBOARD

ELEVATOR

LEGEND

- Person icon: PEDESTRIAN CROSSING
- Tram icon: TRAM CROSSING
- Car icon: PRIVATE CAR
- Bus icon: PUBLIC BUS
- Hand icon: 10 TIER 1 SORT
- Transfer icon: DEGREE 1 TRANSFER
- Intensity icon: INTENSITY OF 21A WIND
- Tower icon: 250 TON FOR A 250 TON

Visual scales for pedestrian crossing, tram crossing, private car, public bus, 10 tier 1 sort, degree 1 transfer, intensity of 21a wind, and 250 ton for a 250 ton.

Gizem Körpınar, Dila Babaoğlu, Esra Tezcan

RHYTHM ANALYSES

PERSEMBE PAZARI

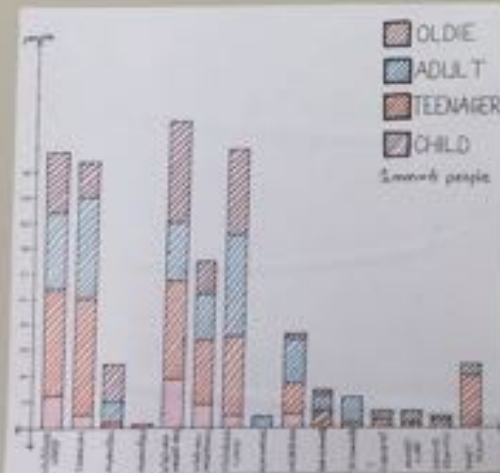

LEGEND

	10 pedestrian 10 clients
	5 graduation paper airplane
	5 buses
	15 cars

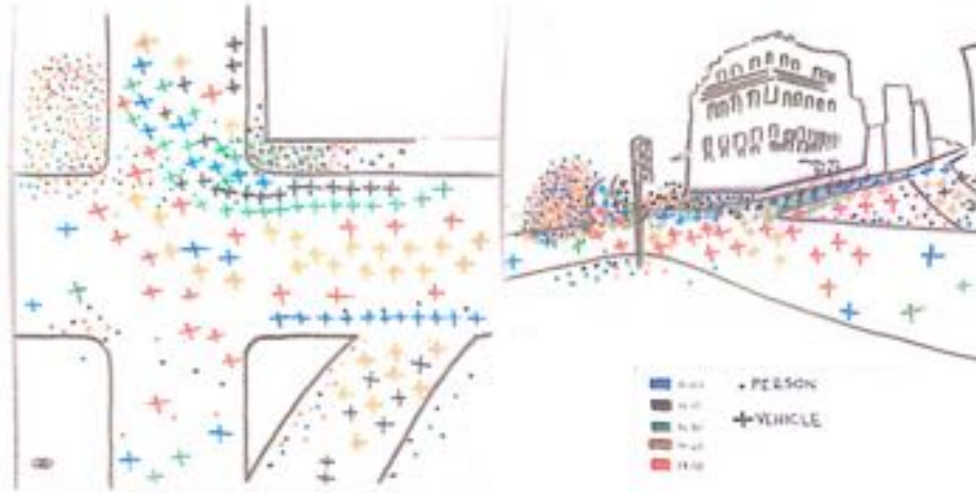

RHYTHMANALYSIS

KAMERCAN BEŞİKÇİ
ZEHRA MERT - BEYZA AKIŒ

Kamercan Beşikçi, Zehra Mert, Beyza AkiŒ

RHYTHM of PERSEMBE PAZARI

module 2: interactions & experiences

soundscape

TES I FOUNDATION
STUDIO I

SBP

What kind of clues do sounds give us about urban space?

Is there a relationship between the physical environment and urban soundscape?

Raising awareness on the unseen city / sense of place as part of everyday life + exploring the denial of undesirables

<Observation, questionnaire, mapping, sound analysis>

<Teşvikiye street, Dolmabahçe street>

ITÜ - FACULTY OF ARCHITECTURE
DEPARTMENT OF URBAN AND REGIONAL PLANNING
PROJECT 1 - FALL 2015

ANALYSIS OF SOUND SCAPE IN TESVİKİYE STREET

DİLA BABAĞLU

FROM QUIET OF SOUNDS TO SILENCE

NUMBER OF PLACES THE SOUNDS REACH

SOUND LEVEL, DB

Dila BABAĞLU

SOLINDSCAPE

YILDIZ PARKI - CIRAĞAN CADDESİ

ORTAKÖY

-----	SOUND OF VEHICLES
-----	SOUND OF BUSES
-----	SOUND OF TRUCKS
-----	SOUND OF MOTORBIKES
-----	SOUND OF BELL
-----	SOUND OF TRAIN
-----	SOUND OF SHOPS

BELİZ ÇAKIR

Beliz Çakır

The Sound of Music

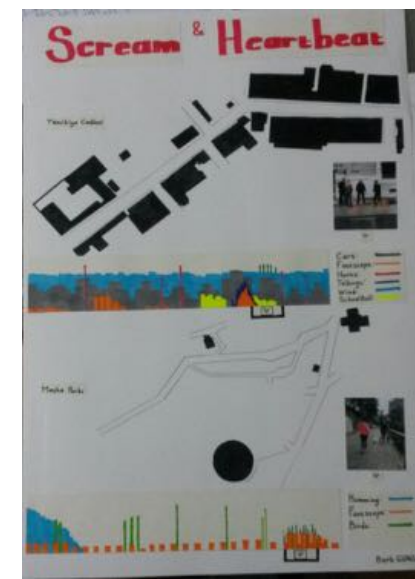

Legend

	4/4
	2/4
	1/4
	1/8
	1/16

"Yıldız Park - Ortaköy"

self-evaluation | prospect for future

- Balance between theory & practice
- Prioritizing research, self-expression, understanding, questioning, analytical thinking – techniques as tools not as goals
- Class rather than groups - mixed profile of prof. to share knowledge, expertise, experience
- Changing student groups to increase interaction, to guide team-work
- Billboards/Blog for spreading knowledge
- Less time invested for one-by-one review + revision
- No exhibition space
- VC to increase the quality of visualisation & drawing techniques
- More time to one-by-one review + more space to revision

